

Our top 5

From decorative screens to a slow cooker that will help warm up your winters we have the pick of the bunch

Shady character ... Featuring intricately detailed laser-cut panels on a gliding track, the DecoGlide replaces traditional blinds and curtains with delicate patterns and stylised imagery – providing a visual surprise, as well as privacy and shade. DecoGlide from $96.60 to $455 a square metre, from TwentySixLetters.

Mix and match with this side table, offering a contemporary take on an element found in most living rooms and giving a feeling of space. Colada side table $299, from Dare Gallery.

One stop pot ... The Tefal Mijot Cook will help you cook up a storm this winter. Its ceramic pot allows you to serve dishes straight to the table and the innovative temperature control and booster function means you can lift the lid to smell, taste and stir without losing heat.

Tefal Mijot Cook $149.95, from department stores and electrical specialists.

Cut above ... Simple and yet ingenious in its efficiency, the Kuhn Rikon Auto Safety Opener opens and removes a tin lid, leaving no sharp or jagged edges and without the user ever having to touch the lid. The can opener suits right and left handers and is available in red, black, blue and lilac. Kuhn Rikon Auto Safety Opener $25.50, from VGM.

With a print reminiscent of the fragrant, white flowers found on the Australian native lilly pilli shrub, this tablecloth and co-ordinated napkins are perfect for any occasion, indoors or out. Tablecloth $79.95 (four to six-seater) and napkins $39.95 (set of four) from Dandi.
